ATLANTA FALCONS TO HOST MORE THAN 200 MOMS IN FLOWERY BRANCH FOR MOMS FOOTBALL SAFETY CLINIC

Tweet It: Moms go behind the scenes at the @AtlantaFalcons Practice Facility to learn about football player safety on Friday: atfal.co.nz/1OpXtIW*

Flowery Branch – The Atlanta Falcons will host more than 200 metro Atlanta moms at the Atlanta Falcons Practice Facility this Friday, April 15 for a Moms Football Safety Clinic. The clinic, the third of seven planned this spring across Georgia and the southeast, is part of a special Atlanta Falcons initiative to provide helpful information to moms who have children that are considering or currently playing tackle football.

The Moms Football Safety Clinic this Friday will kick off with a tour of the equipment room, video room, training room, weight room and locker room at the Atlanta Falcons Practice Facility. Atlanta Falcons Head Coach Dan Quinn and former Atlanta Falcons running back Warrick Dunn will address the moms in the beginning of the program, followed by presentations from Falcons equipment and training staff, and the Taylor Hooton Foundation. The event will conclude with on-field drills led by current Atlanta Falcons players and NFL Alumni in the indoor practice facility.

The Falcons have hosted 14 clinics to date; with more than 1,700 moms participating in clinics all over the state of Georgia, Alabama, and will host their first in Tennessee next week. The first Atlanta Falcons Moms clinic was held in Alpharetta in 2014.
